

AVS-320A

Classroom Controller Switcher

The ABTUS AVS-320A is a user friendly projector controller switcher that can handle multi format inputs from various sources and controls the projector at the same time.

It consolidates all the input and output signals in a regular classroom and functions as a central controller to make the classroom more organized and easier for teachers to manage.

Since it only require a single CAT-5e/6/7 cable, installation is usually quick and simple. It also has a useful DIP switch that allows users to choose from a list of pre-programmed projectors so there's no need for complicated programing whenever, the user changes the projector.

Features

- Single CAT5e/6/7 output allows for quicker and easier installations
- Support Power over Cable (POC)
- Support up to 20m with CAT-5e and up to 40m with CAT-6A
- Supports VGA and HDMI
- Works well with any monitors, projectors and interactive system
- Scan convert VGA input to HDMI
- Simple to use, no training required
- "User Programmable" with Window base Application Software
